

PEASANT ARMY GOES TO MOSCOW

Unarmed Russians Are Under Leadership of M. Tchernoff

PART OF THE ARMY REACHES OUTSKIRTS

Tchernoff Was a Member of Old Kerensky Government

Paris, July 12 (Havas Agency).—M. Tchernoff, a leader of the Russian social revolutionists, is marching on Moscow at the head of numerous bands of unarmed peasants, says a despatch from Stockholm to the Matin. Part of his force has arrived in the outskirts of the bolshevik capital.

A despatch received in Paris on July 9 reported that M. Tchernoff and three other members of the Kerensky cabinet had been arrested in Moscow as alleged leaders of a revolt against the bolsheviks. German reports have declared the social revolutionists were responsible for the recent revolt.

BETHEL

Mrs. P. A. Chatfield has returned from Windsor, where on June 21 a son was born to Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Chatfield. Dr. and Mrs. L. P. Holcomb of Johnson were here on their wedding journey yesterday and called on relatives. Dr. Holcomb on Wednesday married Miss Helen Crocker of North Hyde Park at the home of her father, James C. "BEST MEDICINE FOR WOMEN"

What Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Did For Ohio Woman.

Portsmouth, Ohio.—"I suffered from irregularities, pains in my side and was so weak at times I could hardly get around to do my work, and as I had four in my family and three boarders it made it very hard for me. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was recommended to me. I took it and it has restored my health. It is certainly the best medicine for women's ailments I ever saw."—Mrs. SARA SHAW, R. No. 1, Portsmouth, Ohio.

Mrs. Shaw found the merit of this medicine and wrote this letter in order that other suffering women may find relief as she did.

Women who are suffering as she was should not drag along from day to day without giving this famous root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a trial. For special advice in regard to such ailments write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass. The result of its forty years experience is at your service.

FOLLOWED HER DOCTOR'S ORDERS

Many rheumatic people suffer pains that could be avoided by building up the blood. When rheumatism is associated with thin blood it cannot be corrected until the blood is made rich and red.

Mrs. Peter Fitzner of 10 Holt street, North Billerica, Mass., used Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to combat the effects of rheumatism accompanied by attacks of indigestion. This is her experience. "I was living in Nova Scotia some years ago and contracted a severe cold. The next day I was confined to bed. Sharp pains started in my right shoulder and nearly drove me mad. They worked down to my right knee which was stiff and sore, and went to my hands. I could not sleep and was in terrible pain all the time. My knee was swollen.

"My stomach was affected and I would have terrible pains after eating. Gas would form and I would have smothering sensations and could eat but little. I was very nervous. My doctor advised me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and as I had heard of a boy who had St. Vitus' dance and had been benefited by these pills I was encouraged to try them. After I had taken three boxes I was much better, the pains in my shoulder and limbs were not so intense. I took several more boxes and the pains left me. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills certainly built up my blood and restored my strength. A valuable booklet, 'Diseases of the Blood,' containing much information about rheumatism is free on request. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists or by mail, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box, six boxes for $2.50 by Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y.

WILSON LEADER OF THE WAR

Herbert Asquith Pays Tribute Before American Officers

PRESIDENT KEEPS STEADY HAND

And a Clean Tongue—Submarine Menace at an End

London, July 12.—Sincere praise of President Wilson's leadership in the war and his advocacy of a league of nations after the war was given by Herbert H. Asquith, former premier, in an address Wednesday night at the National Liberal club. The occasion was a "hospitality dinner to American officers," at which 500 prominent Englishmen were hosts. The dinner resolved itself into a meeting of ovation for the president. Vice-Admiral Sims, commander of the American naval forces in the war zone, paid tribute to the co-operation of the British and American navies and declared:

"The submarine menace is now at an end, for we are destroying them faster than the Germans can build them."

Major-General Biddle, commander of the American forces in England, evolved long cheers when he announced that American troops were stationed at from 70 to 80 different points in England and Scotland.

Former Premier Asquith, in the course of a speech urging the importance of President Wilson's idea of a league of nations as "the most urgent of all peace problems," said:

"The United States as a nation has had the very good fortune that in the supreme crisis of her national history the man whom she most needed for inspiration and guidance has always appeared. Thus came Washington and Lincoln. Washington and Lincoln are illustrious names which have passed into history. We must not attempt to anticipate history's judgment upon men still living, but I will venture to say that President Wilson has been the head of the American government in times no less trying than any in its annals."

"President Wilson has taken the greatest decision of our age, and has carried his people with him in it. Moreover, he has laid before the world the grounds for his decision, the reasons which justified and compelled it and the spirit in which it was adopted. He has done this in state papers which are worthy to live side by side with the most inspiring utterances of his most famous predecessors."

"It is one thing to embrace a good cause. It is another to push it to a victorious issue. If a nation is to hold its own on the battlefield these days it must be equipped on the sea and land with the strongest battalions, the best and fastest ships, adequate organization of transport and supply and even with a superiority in all the manifold mechanical devices for aggression and defense which the hellish ingenuity of modern warfare has devised."

"America has had her difficulties. They have not stifled, but have stimulated her energy, and we grasp the opportunity to-night of acknowledging our unbounded admiration of the magnificent contribution America has made, is making and will continue to make in ever-increasing measure. Here, again, we gratefully trace the guiding hand and driving will of the president."

"Probably the world owes its greatest debt to President Wilson for helping men whose vision has been blurred and blinded by the smoke of the battlefield to lift up their eyes and to look through it and beyond it. It is very difficult in time of war to keep a steady head and a clean tongue. President Wilson does both. We cannot ask ourselves too often what we are fighting for. President Wilson has done more than any other statesman to concentrate the minds of his own people, of the allies, and even of enemy peoples upon a league of nations as our dominating world aim. There can be no clean peace which does not clear away the causes of war. It seems to me all important that both here and in America we should realize, and act as though we realized it, that a league of nations is neither a vague political abstraction nor an empty rhetorical formula, but a concrete and a definite ideal. This is a large step in advance on the road of human progress, but it can and must be taken when the goal is reached due honor will be paid to President Wilson as the greatest of its pioneers."

AMERICAN DEAD MOURNED DAILY BY FRENCH PEOPLE

Service Is First Held in Little Chapel in the Hospital and Then Bodies Are Borne to Army Trucks to Be Carried to Cemeteries.

Paris, July 12 (Correspondence of the Associated Press).—Thousands of miles from their maternal hearts, the American dead, heroes of the second battle of the Marne, who have succumbed from grievous wounds in Paris hospitals, are mourned daily by French mothers, fathers or sisters who have felt the sorrow of the kindred of these heroes.

Daily, the funerals leave the city hospitals for the little cemetery dedicated to Americans by the city of Surénes, located on a hill to the west of Paris, overlooking the capital. Daily, the republican guard, in their picturesque and historic military attire march forth to the funeral to bestow France's regard upon these Americans. American marines act as the guard of honor and though no volley is fired because it is forbidden by the French authorities, the American bugler sounds "taps."

A service is first held in the little chapel in the hospital. Protestant chaplains officiate over the dead of their faith and Catholic priests over theirs. The hospital organization such as can be spared, including nurses, orderlies, clerks, doctors, attends the service.

The bodies are borne from the chapel to ponderous army motor trucks. As each body is brought to the conveyance, the republican guard and the marines execute "present arms." When all the dead have been placed upon their military bier, the procession to the cemetery starts. At the head are the chaplains in motor cars. Then follow the motor trucks and last the guard of honor.

The coffins are draped with American flags. Each one bears two wreaths, one given by the republic of France and another by the city of Paris. Tricolor ribbons bind the wreaths. In letters of gold, the ribbons are marked "Aux Défenseurs de la Patrie."

The little procession winds its way along the boulevards. The French know its significance. Without exception, as it passes, every pedestrian stops, uncovers and bows in homage to the American heroes.

Reaching the summit of the hill of Surénes, the interment of the bodies begins. A crowd of French mothers and sisters gather at the graves. They reverently listen to the chaplains pronouncing the last words, and heavy of heart, they feel the sorrows of those thousands of miles away.

The American bugler takes his place and slowly sounds "taps." At the final tone, the command is given and the military escort returns to its post in the city. The little crowd of mothers and sisters repairs to their homes, with thoughts of the mothers and sisters in America.

The Surénes cemetery is the gift of the Surénes municipality to the American army. It is beautifully situated in the midst of a cluster of trees. The walks are arranged in the form of a cross.

SAFE RETURN BY AIRPLANE

King and Queen of the Belgians Are Now Back in France

AFTER FLIGHT ACROSS CHANNEL

They Expressed Themselves as Delighted with Novelty of the Trip

Paris, July 12.—(Havas Agency).—The king and queen of Belgium, who had been visiting England, have returned to France by the same means which they used in crossing the channel to England—through the air. The return passage, the newspapers say, lasted thirty minutes. The royal couple said they were delighted with the experience of the aerial voyage.

Dandruffy Scalps Lead to Baldness

If you have dandruff you must get rid of it quick—it's positively dangerous and will surely ruin your hair if you don't. Dandruff heads mean faded, brittle, gray, scraggly hair that finally dies and falls out—new hair will not grow—then you are bald and nothing can help you.

The only sure way to abolish dandruff for good is to destroy the germ that causes it. To do this quickly, surely, and safely and at little expense, there is nothing so effective as Parisian sage, which you can get from E. A. Drown & Co. and good druggists everywhere. It is guaranteed to banish dandruff, stop itching scalp and falling hair, and promote a new growth, or the cost, small as it is, will be refunded.

Parisian sage is a scientific preparation that supplies all hair needs—an antiseptic liquid, neither sticky or greasy, easy to apply, and delicately perfumed.

If you want beautiful, soft, thick, lustrous hair, and lots of it, by all means use Parisian Sage. Don't delay—begin to-night—a little attention now insures abundant hair for years to come.—Adv.

There Are Just a Few Who Make Collections Costly

MOST TELEPHONE SUBSCRIBERS pay their bills promptly and the labor expended in collecting the majority of telephone accounts is, therefore, reasonable.

BUT THERE ARE A NUMBER of subscribers who overlook their telephone bills, who neglect to pay them within the reasonable specified time, and the labor of collecting these accounts is great—probably two or three times as great as that involved in collecting all the accounts that are paid within the desired period.

THE LABOR involved in collecting overdue accounts would be saved if all accounts were paid within a reasonable time, and, under present war-time conditions, might better be devoted to other work of value to the community's telephone service.

We are taking this means of placing the facts before telephone subscribers in general, and we feel certain that they will co-operate by paying their bills promptly.
